

BEELER GETS A HOT REPLY

Hughes County Republican Organization Refers His Request to Geissler

OBJECTS TO OUTSIDE CONTROL

HOLDENVILLE, Okla., July 13.—Ed. Arnold, chairman of the Hughes County Republican committee, has written a letter to H. H. Beeler, a member of the state election board, in which Arnold voices the resentment which the Republicans of this county feel over the action of the governor in ignoring the Republican State committee when he appointed Beeler as a member of the state election board, and over the action of Mr. Beeler who, supposedly in obedience to the instructions of the governor, asked the Republican county chairman for an endorsement showing whom the county organization wants commissioned as Republican member of the county election board, thus deliberately ignoring the fact that the Hughes County Republican organization and other county organizations some time ago through State Chairman Geissler notified the state election board whom they wanted for this position.

Sparring for Time—Some of the Republicans here believe that the policy of the administration in ignoring the recommendation already made is to induce the Republicans of this county to humbly petition for what the law says is their absolute right so that they may feel under obligations to the administration. Others believe that the state election board is simply sparring for time with a view to finally ignoring the wishes of the Republicans of this county, just as the governor ignored the wishes of the Republicans when he appointed Beeler.

In his letter to Mr. Beeler, County Chairman Arnold says: "I am just in receipt of your letter asking for recommendations for the member of the county election board. This recommendation has been made some time ago to Chairman Geissler of the Republican State committee. As I understand the law, it has been thoroughly complied with in this case, the names having been filed with the proper committee."

Geissler Still in Saddle—"Mr. Geissler was elected at the Tulsa convention, one of the most representative gatherings of the Republican state has ever seen, to be our spokesman for a term of years, and since he has not been recalled, I think it proper that all Republicans speak through him in all things pertaining to party matters.

"Since it seems to be the fashion for the Democrats to dictate Republican appointments, I would suggest that you take this matter up with the governor. He in return, might consult the local Democratic organization of Hughes county. They no doubt can find a man suitable to represent us and count the vote to your satisfaction."

"I believe the great majority of the Republicans of Hughes county, and throughout the state, are for party control within the party. Not only am I for this for Republicans, but for the other parties as well. I never joined any aid societies or fiddle for any side-shows. No victories can be won except by loyalty to the will of the majority. Hence I am for the regularly constituted party control."

But am sure that we will be led to one of the greatest victories in 1916 that the party has seen in many years."

MASSACRE ARMENIANS

Turks Arm Kurds With 40,000 Rifles; Russians Press Ottoman Forces; Volunteers from America

TIPLIS, July 13.—Reports from the various fronts in the Russo-Turkish campaign indicate that lively fighting resulting to Russian successes, has occurred recently north and south of Van Lake, Turkish Armenia, and south of the Taurus in Transcaucasia. It is said a Turkish force of 30,000 men which was concentrated to the east of Bittlis, near Van Lake, is being hard pressed by the Russians.

Organized massacre of Armenians in Bittlis is taken as an indication that the Turks intend to retreat from that point. The Turks distributed 40,000 rifles among Kurds in Mush Valley for use against Armenians. Notwithstanding massacres and epidemics, the Armenians are resisting bravely. They have been joined recently by 100 Armenian volunteers from America.

10,000 MAKERS OF PANTS GO ON STRIKE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, July 13.—A garment workers' strike, the first for several years, began here today when 10,000 pants makers left their shops. Their principal demands are for a sanitary shop, recognition of the union and wages.

A meeting of the delegates of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America today discussed the feasibility of pulling out an additional 80,000 workers in the men's clothing industry.

SULTAN DEAD: A SECRET FROM YOUNG TURKS

PARIS, July 13.—La Riberie says the idea of the National Assembly of the Young Turks has been revealed by the censor: "News from Athens and Sofia advises us that the sultan has been dead several days and that the young Turks are hiding the news, fearing political complications."

WORK PROBLEM IS CONSIDERED

Transportation of Seasonal Laborers in Factories and Harvest Fields Important Subject

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Secretary Wilson had under consideration today further co-operation with the federal labor industrial department of various states outlined in a conference with Commissioner Cunniff and J. T. Fitzpatrick, attorney of the Association of Governmental Labor Officials.

These plans which have for their purpose the promotion of the efficiency of the state labor laws and which deal chiefly with the unemployment question will be discussed at the congress of the state commissioners in San Francisco, August 2. Secretary Wilson and other members of his department are planning to attend.

One of the most important questions concerning the means for securing work for the unemployed was the matter of transportation of seasonal laborers. Steps will be taken to coordinate the slack periods in the factories with the harvest season in the west. Efforts will be made, it is stated, to persuade the factories to use the summer season to overhaul their plants thus permitting employees to take a profitable vacation on farms with the steady of losing time in the winter season when other work is difficult to find.

Another scheme for relieving the unemployment situation provides for "box car excursions" when the railroads are sending empty trains westward for grain. These excursions would make cheap transportation possible when the workman can find a ready market for his labor on the farms.

The opening of federal lands or the buying in of idle districts under bond issue also has been considered by the department in Washington.

The creation of an inter-labor exchange between the states which will secure the necessary co-operation for efficient transportation of labor is also under consideration. This, it is pointed out, would assure the distribution of immigrant labor where it would be most effective.

ANOTHER MEXICAN VILLAGE FALLS INTO CARRANZA'S HANDS

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., July 13.—General Luis Caballero at Monterey today wired to Matamoros that Aguirre Calles Sunday fell into the hands of General Obregon's Carranza forces.

VON JAGOW TOLD HER UNITED STATES WAS RIGHT

Jane Addams, who was abroad earlier in the year to attend a peace conference at The Hague, has come back to the United States after traveling through Europe, with the statement that Von Jagow, German secretary of foreign affairs, told her he believed the United States was within her rights in shipping arms to the Belgians, but that Americans must realize that such shipments must create a strong anti-American feeling in Germany. There is a feeling against the United States in France, too, she said, because of our failure to protest against the invasion of Belgium.

"We were treated cordially by Sir Edward Grey and Premier Asquith. We were told, however, at the foreign office that the war would have to go on to a finish, and any departure from that policy would look like a weakening," she said.

"In Vienna we met Count Sturegh, Austrian prime minister, in Budapest. Count von Burian, Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, in Switzerland, Dr. Hoffman, minister of police, and in Italy, Baron Sonnino, minister of foreign affairs. While in Rome we had an audience with the pope, who told us our efforts would carry more weight just then than the political influence of any nation. The pope also said the Vatican is ready for any peace plan, and would take any up even though it spelled failure on its face.

"We met Theophile Delcasse, minister of foreign affairs, and M. Viviani, prime minister, in Paris, and in Havre we met M. Dignel, Belgian minister of foreign affairs, who said that probably Belgium, more than any other country, was praying for the success of our mission."

WANT PAY FOR FUTUER

Railway Man Says Return Should Be Received on Investment to Care for Business Years Hence.

CHICAGO, July 13.—L. E. Wetting, a statistician, under a cross-examination in the western passenger rate case today insisted that the railroads are entitled to a return on investments on property constructed with an eye to future needs.

The union station at Kansas City and big stations in Chicago were cited as instances of millions of dollars sunk in property designed to care for the requirements of future generations.

"Building twenty years in advance, I should say is justifiable," he asserted.

CORPSE IN A JAR

So Drayman Notified Police—All Set for Big Mystery Which Did Not Materialize

"Chief," came a shaky voice over the phone to the police station this morning. "I just unpacked a box of goods and found a corpse."

Police, newspapermen and loungers flocked to the address given on South Robinson street. Investigation of the package was at first without result, until the man making the call was found a doctor's specimen of the human anatomy, carefully sealed and preserved in alcohol, was then brought forth in a jar. How the product of the dissecting room got into the wagon load of second-hand goods is a mystery.

QUESTIONS ON MUNITIONS CONTROVERSY ARE BARRED

LONDON, July 13.—A sheaf of questions designed to secure a discussion of the shell controversy and the differences between David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, and Viscount Haldane, former minister of war, was brought up in the house of commons this afternoon but Premier Asquith declined to satisfy the inquiring members of parliament. The prime minister pleaded that any such discussion in the present circumstances would be detrimental to the best interests of the government.

SOCIAL STRATA AT PENITENTIARY

Warden Classifies Prisoners With Respect to Every-Day Differences

PLENTIFUL LACK OF RELIGION

In presenting his annual report on the state penitentiary to the governor, Warden R. W. Dick has followed out several angles that contain considerable interest, especially in a sociological way.

The warden has conceived the idea that out of a total of 1381 prisoners confined for various offenses in his work house it would be interesting to know that 530 whites have no religion, 356 negroes, 146 whites, 73 Indians the same and four Mexicans ditto.

In the prison are 32 white people of the Baptist faith, and 128 negro Baptists. Of the Christian church there are 80; Catholic, 40; Methodist, 38; Presbyterian, 7; Quaker, 2, and Episcopalian, 2, beside one and two each of several other denominations.

Distributed among the states as to nativity, there are 330 from Oklahoma, 272 from Texas, and 130 from Arkansas, while other states are credited in numbers ranging from five to ten. As to age of the prisoners there is one man there now 81 years old, while there are eight under 16 years, and the others range between the two.

Of the prisoners in the institution 259 have mothers living, 137 have fathers living, and 341 have both parents living. Of the total number confined 550 drink 811 smoke and 821 chew tobacco. As to occupation there are 487 farmers, and the other callings are represented. Muskogee county, with 90, is the largest representation from any single county in the state. Choctaw county comes next with 70. Oklahoma with 60 and Bryan with 50.

The warden calls special attention to the trusty system, which he has established himself. In this the warden has been more or less severely criticized. There are now 587 trusties, he says. No guards are placed over these men. Figuring that it requires one guard to every twenty prisoners, it would take nine guards to guard these 587 men. A guard is paid $75 a month and this would cost $20,100 for this year. During the past year, forty trusties escaped. Twenty-six of them were captured at a cost of $1,400. Subsequent to this from $20,100, which it would have cost the state to place a guard over the 587 trusties, the state has made a clear gain of $24,000.

Fashions For Americans

Of Sea-Green Taffeta, Garlished With Touches of Silver

The dress design shown today is very well suited to crepe de chine or taffeta in some cool summer color. There are lovely greens in the lighter tone, and in taffeta these shades are often frosted with a silver surface sheen, which in a crisp, firm quality of silk is wonderfully effective. This is suggested for the development of the illustrated frock, and as a trimming the waist and belt may be embroidered in silver.

There is an odd little shallow blouse whose expansive square neck is filled in by a tucked gimp of sheer batiste, from which rises a flaring pointed collar of the same. The sleeves are set in a little below the shoulders, and show a shaped cuff cut in one and finished with corded edge. The center front of the shallow blouse is slashed and trimmed with small buttonholes and silver buttons.

The wide cord finished cincture is noticeably new. Across the back and sides it is straight and measures about eight inches in width. The upper edge arches across the front and the lower is correspondingly curved downward. An oval section is then cut from the center, disclosing a section of embroidery. A broad sash end is hung from over the lower line of the skirt in the girdle, and its end shows a half circle of the silver embroidery bordered by a close row of silver ball tassels.

The pretty skirt consists of three flounces joined together at long serpentine edges under corset seams. Each flounce is just a trifle fuller than the one above and each wider so that the upper is really no more than hip depth, the second not quite knee depth, and the third evened off at the ankles in a straight line.

Scandal Represented in Its Real Likeness, Shapeless Creature of the Mire

It is a mighty easy thing to start at the sea shore she thought she saw scandal. It almost starts itself. But it is a thousand times harder to stop it once it is started, and in the meantime, the mischief is done. And nothing can right that. This, briefly, is the theme of Lois Weber's wonderful play, "Scandal," which the Smaleys have just completed at Universal City, and which the Universal expects will be one of the most talked of films released in 1915.

The pictures show how easily scandal may be started through an entirely innocent situation and how easily it is to be deceived by appearances.

To save herself from being ostracized even by her own family after scandal had unjustly coupled her name with that of her employer, Daisy Dean married a man who was not her own equal. Robert's sister still kept alive in her breast the scandalous tales about her sister-in-law. So she kept her eye on her. One day at the sea shore she thought she saw scandal. It almost starts itself. But it is a thousand times harder to stop it once it is started, and in the meantime, the mischief is done. And nothing can right that. This, briefly, is the theme of Lois Weber's wonderful play, "Scandal," which the Smaleys have just completed at Universal City, and which the Universal expects will be one of the most talked of films released in 1915.
